EDITORIAL COMMENT

Ex-Marine William A. Redd, Jr., is one of the country's heroes. In the aftermath of the terrible San Antonio flood-disaster last September, a Southern Pacific train was wrecked from a washout on its tracks, near the city of San Antonio. An eastbound passenger train was running into the wreck at fifty miles an hour. It was necessary to flag this train in order to save a hundred human lives. But to do this meant that someone would have to swim through a swollen torrent filled with floating debris. Volunteers were called for, and Ex-Marine William A. Redd, Jr., answered the call, jumped into the angry waters, swam across, flagged the train, swam back, and later made the trip a second time and carried aid to the wounded of the wrecked train. The Southern Pacific Railroad Company gave Private Redd money; Secretary Denby, of the Navy, sent him a personal letter of praise; the Ace-High Medal Foundation, of New York, has just awarded him its first Ace-High Medal for heroism. The press of the country is giving the deed and the man their due meed of publicity. It is the William A. Redds of this country who are its pride in times of peace and its bulwark in times of war! May their tribe increase and their shadows never grow less!

Education Week in Alexandria! Nothing since war times has had such a universal outpouring of the public heart! Every church in town has been represented: Catholic, Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopalian, Baptist—have found common ground on which to stand! God bless them and their noble clergy! What would this dear old city be without them? We shudder at the thought. And the women—the self-sacrificing and devoted women who mother us and wive us and sister us from infancy to old age! They have, as always, bestirred themselves for the public weal. And the doctors, and the merchants, and the members of the School Board—and the Kiwanis Club—and those others who have wrought and spoken among us for Education Week. God bless them all! The Gazette is indeed proud to be the mouthpiece of so noble a citizenry.

Dr. Adolph Lorenz, a famous Austrian surgeon, came over to this country to mend the cripples and heal the afflicted—an errand of mercy and charity! Mostly among the poor—no fees—and done in a spirit of gratitude, as Dr. Lorenz says, to the American people for all they did for the starving little children of Vienna. A noble mission in a Christ-like spirit! On Wednesday of this week, however, Dr. Lorenz announces that, owing to the hostility developed among certain members of the medical profession, and their adverse criticism, he would discontinue his clinics and return to Vienna. We let our readers draw their own conclusion. The English language has some harsh words in its vocabulary, but none too harsh for the contemptible jealousy displayed by these unworthy members of a most worthy profession.

The Gazette is printing from day to day, letters from the little ones who write to Santa Claus in its care. The letters are touching in their simple faith, and their sincerity could only come from the heart of a child! Our own belief in Santa Claus has never waned or wavered. The good Saint is one of the most universally beloved in Christendom today. Perhaps some who read this, may also read the letters, and like to impersonate the Saint this Xmas? Really, the merriest joy at Christmas tide lies in the giving rather than the receiving!

Dr. Richard Strauss is the world's chiefest musician today. It is wonderful to be the greatest in the whole world, in anything. He has written marvellous songs, sonatas, symphonies and operas. 'Tis a musical education in itself to study them. To see him and hear him the other night in Washington was to wonder why genius only came rarely to mortals; and why the gods favored only one out of millions and only once in perhaps a century? Is it some physical disturbance of the brain that enables the soul to dwell amidst immortal harmonies while still wearing the "muddy vesture of decay?" However this be, these rare geniuses often lift the whole human race to higher levels.

CHINA'S CLAIM STRENGTHENED IN NEW PLEDGE

Powers Say Treaties Will Not Infringe On Pekin's Rights

U. S. PLAN ENLARGED

Expected That Final Sessions of Peace Parley May Be In Sight Next Week.

China's declaration of independence, enunciated in the four Root resolutions agreed to November 21 by the eight powers represented in Washington at the armament conference, was further strengthened yesterday.

The powers interpreted for the rest of the world just what these Root resolutions actually meant. And, while they did not go as far as the Chinese delegation had demanded, they pledged themselves to a course of future policy that will be of the utmost benefit to China in the future. All agree that hereafter China shall not be exploited excepting for the benefit of the Chinese people themselvs.

There was a whole lot of very frank talk at the gathering, which took the form of a meeting of the full committee on problems of the Far East and of the Pacific. Only a portion of this talk was preserved in the records and made public in the official communique. But it was very strongly established that China must take the viewpoint of the nations viewpoint that it set forth in is now historc ten points.

China's integrity is to be safeguarded in every way. But the promise made to the world will follow the demands of international law rather than an open and shut declaration that would, if carried to its ultimate conclusion, perpetuate the present administration in Pekin and give it a right of veto over suggestions by disinterested nations that might eventually prove a serious menace to the peace of the Orient.

The resolution which was finally adopted, and which is designed to clarify the Root resolution, was as follows:

"Resolved, That the powers attending this conference hereinafter mentioned, to wit, the United States of America, Belgium, the British Empire, China, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands and Portugal declare that it is their intention not to enter into any treaty, agreement, arrangement, or understanding, either with one another or collectively with one another, or collectively with any power or powers which would infringe or impair the principles which have been declared by the resolutions adopted November 21 (the Root resolutions) by this committee."

The Chinese delegation said last night that they would have been better satisfied had the resolution been adopted in its original form, but they expressed the belief that it will be satisfactory to their government. By disposing of this question the committee was able to adjourn until tomorrow in order that the direct Shantung negotiations may be pushed. Members of the various delegations said last night that the progress being made was surprising and they intimated that by the end of next week the final sessions of the conference, as such, may be in sight. There will of course be certain unfinished business left but this will be referred to resident ambassadors and ministers for adjustment.

The official communique was as follows:

The committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions met yesterday morning at the Pan-American Building at 11 o'clock with all the delegates present with the exception of Mr. Underwood, Mr. Ricci Mr. Shidehara and Dr. Moresco. The third Chinese proposal was discussed.

Mr. Koo said that the essential principle laid down in point three of the Chinese proposals, which reads as follows: "With a view to strengthening mutual confidence and maintaining peace in the Pacific and the Far East, the powers agree not to conclude between themselves any treaty or agreement directly affecting China or the general peace in these regions without previously notifying China and giving to her an opportunity to participate," is that the Chinese government should have previous notification of the negotiation of any treaty or agreement which will affect Chinese interests.

MRS. J. O. GILBERT DIES

Mrs. Allie W. Gilbert, wife of John O. Gilbert, died last night at the Alexandria hospital. She was fifty years old and had been residing with her sister, Mrs. Martha Groves, Del Ray, Arlington county. The body was taken to Demain's mortuary chapel and will be shipped tomorrow morning to Midland, Va., for burial.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Dec. 9.—Official and Congressional circles were startled to hear of the death of Representative Hal D. Flood of Virginia. While his colleagues had known for a long time that the member from Appomattox was not in the best of health, they did not look for his demise and the announcement of his death came as a distinct shock, not only to the Democratic members of the House but to the Republicans as well with whom Mr. Flood has served for practically twenty years occuying the most prominent positions in the lower branch of our national legislature.

The death of Mr. Flood is the third one that has taken place within the ranks of Virginia statesmen during the past year. Representative Watson, of Petersburg, died during the last Congress. Then Representative James, died and Representative Flood was chosen as Chairman of the Democratic State Committee as Mr. James successor. Mr. Flood's death will be felt in Washington and in the halls of Congress where his great influence and power among his colleagues were recognized by all with whom he came in contact.

A thrilling spectacle somewhat resembling scenes in a real bull fight was witnessed by President Harding and his party yesterday afternoon when a hefty he-calf which had escaped from Centre Market and had been pursued by an excited farmer aboard a red roadster was overhauled in Executive Avenue just outside the White House.

The manner of capture was what furnished the thrill, the farmer in the role of toreador, making a wild leap from the car and grabbing the animal by the tail, both calf and ruralist going sprawling to the pavement. It was not until after a hard tussle that the calf was overpowered, the help of the driver being needed. Before the car and the captive calf were headed back to the market, a large crowd had congregated, including the Presidential party.

It is expected that an open plenary session of the Conference on Limitation of Armaments and Far Eastern questions will be held the first part of next week. It is predicted that the meeting will be the most important of its character that has yet been held.

Formal announcement of Japan's acceptance of the naval ratio proposition has not yet been made because the Tokyo government is transmitting slowly to the delegation here an extremely long statement of exactly what Japan desires in the way of an understanding on Pacific questions. However, there is not the slightest doubt but that all the major obstacles in the way of an agreement on all matters pertaining to limitation of naval armaments have been removed and that the conference will once again proceed under the signal "full steam ahead."

Postmaster General Hays has been approached on the subject of becoming head of a moving picture combine at a salary of something like $100,000 a year, it is known by his friends here, but the plan is yet too nebulous for him even to dicuss terms with the movie magnates.

There is of course no hint as yet as to whether Mr. Hays would accept the offer, but it can be said that several such offers have already been made Mr. Hays but that he has turned them all down. It may seem strange that a man who is receiving $12,500 a year as a member of the Cabinet shauld turn down a salary of $100,000 a year, but there is no doubt that the Postmaster General has done so in the past.

Mr. Hays is by no means a wealthy man and in fact practically lives on his salary. But money does not mean much to him. He loves his work and politics and cannot get too much of either.

M. Viviani, head of the French delegation to the arms conference has been dubbed the "bull" by some of those who are attending the meetings of the conference. The former French Premier usually emerges from the conference room with an expression on his face very much like a disgruntled bull-dog who has been chastised for some reason or other. But his personal friends declare that there is no more delightful character than M. Viviani although his looks may belie him.

Healing Mission at St. Paul's

Miss Mattie E. Perry who will conduct Healing Mission at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Pitt street, near Duke, on Monday and Tuesday, is Superintendent of the Elhanan Training Institute for Christian Workers at Marion, N. C. Scores of her pupils are engaged in ministerial, evangelistic and mission work in China, Africa India and other places.

Miss Perry is a member of the Methodist Church. The services will doubtless be attended by many persons from Washington, who were unable to meet Miss Perry when she was there recently because of the crowds that besieged her, seeking divine help in their sickness.

Rev. Mr. Hall, rector of St. Paul's, is inviting the interest and aid of all Christian ministers and people in the city and neighborhood.

TEACHERS' FIRST BANQUET IS A BIG SUCCESS

Eleven Teachers Respond to Toasts — Musical Program

SPLENDID MENU

Address by Dr. Croissaut of George Washington University—Interesting Program Given

The teaching corps of Alexandria last night enjoyed a very interesting evening, unique in the history of the school life. The first banquet was given by the local Teachers' Association at the Hotel Rammel, and attended by most of the members of the corps. The tables were attractively decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and cleverly designed place cards to represent each individuals specialty or hobby. Richard Haydon, president of the association, and the committee in charge is to be congratulated on the splendid menu and the program, which follows:

Toasts—Lee school, Miss St. Clair; Washington school, Miss Reardon; West End school, Mr. Haydon; high school, Miss Abramson; Superintendent Sweeney, Miss Grigg; Miss Mary Pierce, Miss Reeves; principal of Washington school, Mrs. Woodward; principal of Lee school, Miss L. Adams; principal of West End school, absent; Principal of High school, Miss Ficklin; the School Board, Mrs. Jones; Spirit of Cooperation, Mr. Knight; address, Dr. Croissant of George Washington university.

Program—Piano solos, Miss Jennie Richards and Miss Virginia Schwab; violin solo, Alvin Friedlander; reading, Frank Steele; reading, Miss Mary Davis; vocal solo, Miss Evelyn Howard.

Dr. Croissant's address was filled with splendid, practical, and inspirational ideas to be actually applied in teaching. On the whole the affair was permeated with a spirit of "get-together" an achievement of the best in teaching. The evening closed with a short, clever toast by Miss Mary Pierce, and a "good-night" by Superintendent W. H. Sweeney.

EDUCATION WEEK

Educational Week was observed at the Xaverian Brothers school during the past week. The various essays submitted by the students proved a source of gratification to the faculty. One special composition entitled "The Ingrate" which brought out most forcibly the thankless man of the present received praise from the teachers.

The week of educational topics was brought to a close with an address by Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and under whose supervision the school is conducted. In his address Father Smet emphasized the present need of "Christian Education" and the crying need of "Real Men."

"Note Day," that is the first Friday, calling of marks for the month of November, is always a source of interest to the boys. Each class did remarkably well. Despite the inclement weather the attendance is regarded as wonderful. Three of the classes can boast of not a single absentee for a period more than three weeks. The school now has an average attendance of 115 boys.

"Babe" Ruth Makes Donation to Alexandria Hospital

Miss Evelyn Howard, director of the Friends' Playgrounds on Queen street yesterday had a personal interview with Babe Ruth, the "Home Run King," who is among the entertainers at Keith's Theatre this week. Miss Howard's interview was in the interest of the Playground in this city and in the hope of securing "Babe" to talk to the children of the Playgrounds. The home-run King made a large donation to be used for the basket ball team of the Friends Playground and regretted having all his time engaged, but expressed hope that in the near future on a return trip to Washington, he would be able to visit the Playgrounds of Alexandria.

STRIKERS' MOB IN CHICAGO LED BY WOMAN

Knocks Down Mounted Officer and Is Placed Under Arrest

FIRE FROM HOMES

Snipers Shoot at Police Reserves—Day's Toll is One Shot, Four Badly Injured

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Rioting was renewed in the stockyards' district here late this afternoon when mobs of striking packing house employes fought police trying to conduct workers to the gates.

Hundreds of strikers, led by a woman, fought with mounted police at Racine Avenue and Forty-seventh street, during which one man was shot and four others so badly injured they were taken to hospitals.

The woman leader, identified as Mrs. Annie Sobryo, grabbing a heavy picket from a fence knocked down the first patrolman of a squad answering a riot call, and urged her followers on. She was captured and arrested.

The fighting became general as soon as the day shift came off, and hundreds of shots were fired from windows by snipers. Police answering calls in this district were met with a fusilade of bricks and stones. A hundred women, many of them throwing red pepper, refused to be dispersed by mounted police who rode into their midst. One man was shot in this fighting.

Another riot call was answered when strikers attempted to wreck the house of a union butcher not on strike. Every window in the house was broken before a motorcycle squad of twenty-five police, firing in the air, dispersed the rioters.

Sniping became so general on South St. Paul street that Police Chief Fitzmoris ordered every house searched for weapons. Scores of shotguns, rifles and revolvers were confiscated.

There were fights on every street in the district and 1,500 police were called to quell the general onslaught before any semblance of order could be gained.

The strikers were infuriated by a temporary injunction against picketing granted the packers by Superior Judge Sullivan, and because this was pay day and strikebreakers and nonunion empolyes were receiving their pay.

Every spare policeman in the city is patrolling the stockyards' district. All saloons were ordered closed.

Reports from St. Paul, where five companies of National Guardsmen are preventing disorder, declare that strikebreakers and nonunion empolyes are returning to work. In Kansas City, East St. Louis, Fort Worth Denver, Omaha, and Cedar Rapids operation is being continued under difficulty, and with heavy police guards preventing disorders.

The stockyards district here today was filled with police reserves. More than 200 reserves, armed with riot guns, were held ready to be called. Bands of strikers, some of them led by women, roamed about the streets, and incipient riots were quelled by mounted police.

A supply of tear bombs was also taken to the district, to be used in case of emergency.

The first result of the strike is higher meat prices for the public Hog receipts have fallen off more than 100,000 at eleven primal points so far this week, and many points so far this week, and many packing points are shipping hogs into Chicago, being unable to kill.

RAID BABY STILLS

Two baby stills of about ten gallons capacity each were captured about noon today near Annadale, Fairfax county. The capture was made by federal prohibition agents assisted by police of this city.

The officers claim they also found about 150 gallons of peach mash which was destroyed by them. The stills were brought to police headquarters early this afternoon. At the same time the police took in custody a man said to be named John Sheeds, who will be given a hearing this afternoon before United States Commissioner W. P. Woolls. According to the federal agents one still was not in use, but still No. 2 was about to be used, an oil stove just having been started with the still on top of it.

While making their rounds the agents also captured a good sized copper coil which they claim they found in an outhouse on the place formerly occupied by William Jones, colored. Jones' house a few days ago was destroyed by fire. It is reported by the agents "too late" was the laconic comment of one of the policemen in the party.

The raiding party was composed of J. J. Hudgins, deputy collector of internal revenue, assisted by S. W. Davis, Thomas D. Durrett, assisted by Policemen Magner and Durrer.

Other stills are expected to be captured.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Newport News.—Henry Moss and A. F. Bagley admitted in police court Monday that they had entered into an agreement whereby Moss was to burn Babley's house and that Bagley was to pay Moss half of the insurance, the total being $3,100. They will be held for grand jury. Moss admitted that he was responsible for four incendiary fires last Thursday night. The Bagley house was set afire in seven places, but firemen extinguished the blaze before the building was destroyed. The other fires were to have kept the firemen busy in other parts of town while the Bagley house burned. Bagley said he was disgusted with everything. He bought the property for $3,500 and paid $1,000 on it. Since then the value of real estate has depreciated and the property probably would not sell for more than $2,500.

Norfolk.—Decision of Henry Ford as said to have been announced by him to establish his principal eastern assembling and distributing plant in Norfolk, would mean the employment of probably 16,000 persons in the Virginia coast city. This would increase Norfolk's population by 40,000 or 50,000. It is not improbable that Ford's reported plan to put assembling facilities in Norfolk is prompted primarily by a desire to become independent of New York capital, something that could not be brought about had he chosen the larger metropolis.

Accomac.—The menhaden fishing season in the Chesapeake Bay and Atlantic ocean ended December 1, Many of the fishing steamers operating from Reedville, Northumberland county, the center of the fishing industry, have already "cut out," and others will do so within the next few days. The fish fertilizer and oil plants situated along the Chesapeake Bay employ hundreds of men and represent an enormous investment. Conditions were such this year that most of the factory men concluded it would not be wise to operate the plants the entire season, which begins the last Monday in May, according to the Virginia state law, and many plants did not begin operation until late in the season.

Norfolk.—Prices on the prepared grades of soft coal were lowered by local retailers generally Monday from $10 to $8 a ton, the cut being due to open competition among the dealers, who have heretofore abided by a gentlemen's agreement to adhere to a set price. The cut is the second within two months. During the summer these grades of soft coal were sold for $12 a ton. Citizens protested greatly against that price and cooperative societies were formed to purchase direct from the mines. The dealers then lowered the price to $10.

Richmond.—General C. C. Vaughan, Jr., of Franklin, who has been elected to represent his district in the state senate, has been made chairman of the legislative committee of the American Legion, department of Virginia, it was announced yesterday by Adjutant W. L. Price. Those who will serve with General Vaughan are R. B. Adams, of Roanoke; G. M. Harrison, Fredericksburg, and T. N. Crymes, Victoria. The committee, which will have charge of all legislation desired by the American Legion in Virginia, will meet at the call of the chairman.

AUTO LICENSES

The 1922 state license automobile tags have arrived. The police department has received about 5,000 of the tags. They are a dark blue with the letters and numbers finished in white. This year the tags for trucks bear the word "truck" beneath the bottom of the number on the tag. Already many persons have called and obtained their license tags. Many Washingtonians now get Virginia licenses in Alexandria, thereby obiating the necessity of procuring a Maryland license tag. Licenses also are issued by the police for any section of Virginia.

AUTO DAMAGED

Joy Party Forfeits Collateral In Court Today

An automobile of W. A. Smoot and Company, of this city in charge of Charles J. Sullivan, while standing on Russell Road last night shortly before 10 o'clock was damaged to the extent of about $100 according to Mr. Sullivan when a machine going toward Washington collided with it.

The colliding machine afterward was ditched. Sergts. Wilkinson and Campbell were called and went to the scene and placed two men and a woman under arrest. The man who was alleged to be driving the machine forfeited $50 collateral in the police court today on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and the second man forfeited $10 collateral for being drunk while in an automobile and the woman who was the only one of the party who put in her appearance was fined $10. A civil suit to cause the owner of the colliding car to repair the car of Smoot and Company will follow it was stated.

CONGRESSMAN FLOOD CALLED TO LAST REST

Distinguished Virginia Representative a Victim of Heart Disease

CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Funeral Will be Held Monday at Church of the Covenant in Washington.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Representative Henry Delaware Flood, for twenty-one years a member of the house, chairman of the national Democratic congressional committee and state chairman of the Democratic committee of Virginia, former chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs, and a leader in the politics of the nation and his state, died here suddenly today.

The death of Representative Flood was caused by heart failure, superinduced by acute bronchitis. He had been sick ever since his return from the Virginia state campaign, November 9, but his death was unexpected.

Funeral services will be held from the Church of the Covenant Monday morning at 11 o'clock, following which the body will be placed in a valut temporarily, to be taken later to his home in Appomattox for burial.

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, gave official notice to the senate of the death of Representative Flood, whereupon a resolution was passed naming a committee of eight senators to represent the senate at the funeral, as follows: Senators Swanson, Glass, Harrison, Caraway, Heflin, Curtis, McKinley and Willis.

The senate then adjourned out of respect.

On the house side, notice was given by Mr. Flood's colleague, Representative Harrison, of Virginia. The speaker was at once empowered to appoint a committee to represent the house at the services, whereupon an adjournment was taken out of respect for the deceased. Speaker Gillett later stated that he would be unable to announce the list of members until tomorrow.

The house committee will probably include the members of the Virginia delegation, all of whom are in Washington at this time, except Representatives Deal and Hooker, and the members of the foreign affairs committee, eighteen members in all.

Representative Flood was born at Appomattox September 2, 1865. He attended the Appomattox and Richmond schools, and later graduated from Washington and Lee university and the University of Virginia. Before he was 21 years of age, he was elected to the Virginia house of delegates, and Representative Harrison today recalled the fact that Mr. Flood on that occasion was compelled to wait some days before his brithday when he could legally take his seat.

From that time on to the day of his death he was almost constantly in public life, as state senator, commonwealth's attorney from Appomattox county, and, from 1901, as a member of congress. Mr. Flood did not marry until 1914, when he took as his bride Miss Anna Portner, of Manassas, Va. His widow and two small children, Bolling, aged 6, and Eleanor, aged 4, survive him.

At his bedside when he expired were his immediate family, his nephew, Lieut.-Commander R. E. Byrd, Jr., Senator Swanson, his life-long friend and classmate at college, and the physician.

Representative Flood became chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs in January, 1913, and served in that important role through the world war and until March 4, 1919, when the Republican party gained control of the house.

Prohibition Cases

Three Convictions Obtained In Corporation Court

The session of the corporation court yesterday was taken up with hearing prohibition cases, four being disposed of during the day. In the case of Calvin Neal, colored, charged with an alleged infraction of the prohibition law, the court found the accused guilty and he was sentenced to pay $50 and serve one month in jail. Samuel Petrello, also charged with an alleged infraction of the prohibition law, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $50 and sentenced to serve one month in jail. Fred Gravenstein, charged with an alleged infraction of the prohibition law, was found guilty and fined $50 and sentenced to serve one month in jail. An appeal was noted by Attorney C. H. Smith in behalf of Gravenstein from the court's decision.

In the case of Charles Lee, colored, charged with an alleged infraction of the prohibiton law, a nolle prosse was entered.

THE NEW DOMINION

It is not too much to say that there will be more rejoicing in the United States than in the whole British Empire over the peaceful solution of the Irish question. Perhaps, because, outside of Ireland there are more Irishmen in this country than in the rest of the world put together. Nor is there any class of our fellow-citizens more beloved, more respected, or nearer to the universal heart of America than the Irish. For our own part we have been born and bred with them.

Playfellows from infancy, school-mates, workfellows from early life to mature manhood—we could never view them but as part and parcel of our great, common democracy. In fact, we were far beyond the years of discretion before we even heard that there were Irish-Americans, German-Americans, or any other Americans differing from that one united citizenship who all spoke the English language.

Nor, in our readings of English history and English literature, could we ever separate in our minds the long list of brilliant Irishmen who begemmed their pages, from the Scotch, or Welsh, or English names that were equal adornments. In fact, we have in our veins, as do the majority of English-descended Americans, we believe, all four strains, of English, Irish, Scotch and Welsh blood.

The Irish are peculiarly and many-gifted. Their Celtic ancestry has given them, almost above all other peoples, music, poetry, wit, imagination, daring. Their folk-lore is unsurpassed. There is a depth to them, too, that imparts genuine value to their endowments. Their minstrelsy in the Middle Ages made their musicians sought for all over Europe. Their adventurous soldiers fought in the medieval wars and founded families who to this day are among the famous names of the Continent.

We could fill a column with the names of Irishmen who have won deathless glory. To mention only a few might seem invidious distinction. But to those who speak the English language who is more beloved in the realm of poetry than Tom Moore. What names among the world's great orators thrill the American heart with greater enthusiasm than those of Curran, Grattan and Edmund Burke; the last by the way, the one friend who stood for America in the English parliament, in her own struggle for liberty. The conqueror of the great Napoleon was an Irishman. One of the great Irish names, to this editor at least, is that of Edward Fitzgerald, a friend of Tennyson and Carlyle, and whose translation of Omar Khayyam almost surpasses the original and is unequalled of its kind.

But to mention one's own selection of great Irishmen is to commit worse than a crime, as Talleyrand said, it is to perpetrate a blunder. Because for every one mentioned ten rise up in reproach! In our own American history, likewise, Irish names stud the stellar skies of fame with matchless brilliancy.

The world breathes easier, now that Irishmen may devote their whole energies to the upbuilding of a great country. It has been a tragedy for hundreds of years—the fate of Ireland! It was reserved for the twentieth century, which has seen the first peace parliament of the world, in its opening years, to see England and Ireland bound in a solemn compact founded on the eternal rules of justice.

CONGRESSMAN FLOOD

The House of Representatives has lost one of its most efficient and distinguished members in the death of Congressman Henry D. Flood. The State of Virginia has lost one of its most patriotic citizens. And the Democratic party of the Old Dominion will long mourn the untimely end of one of its most stalwart defenders. The Gazette tenders its profound sympathies to the bereaved family of the dead statesman. His inspiring presence among our leaders will be missed, but the work he wrought during his all-too-brief life will endure as a lasting monument to his memory.

Bible Class School

Emmanuel Bible class of Christ Episcopal Church last night held a social and banquet in the parish hall of that church which was largely attended and greatly enjoyed by those present.

Following the banquet a program of songs, speeches and recitations was put on, Roger C. Sullivan presided. The banquet was served by the Hotel Rammel. Judge L. C. Barley is leader of this class and H. D. Gasson assistant leader; George Baggett, president; Roger Sullivan, secretary and Thomas W. Robinson, treasurer.

VAUDEVILLE TONIGHT

Columbian Players Ready to Present Their Vaudeville Show.

The Columbian Players will tonight present at the Lyceum their first vaudeville show. The show is being directed by Norris P. The vaudeville partakes solely of the humorous, and every act is calculated to be a gloom chaser. The following constitute the cast of the different acts: Mrs. N. B. Stein, Miss Mary Conlon; Mr. N. B. Stein, Mr. Carl Rothmund; Porter, Joseph Ross; Songs and monologues, Mr. E. A. Sweeley; jazzbows, Tom Lake and Al Gibson; Jane, Margaret Griffith; Mabel, Magdalene Conlon; Archie, Norris P. Roland; dance fantastique, Miss Helen Sweeley; Mr. Ludwig Wiglow, Mr. Joseph Ross; Mrs. Ludwig Wiglow, Miss Mary Conlon; Marie Wiglow, Miss Eleanor Nugent; Dr. Murray, Robert Whitestone; Duke de Venzeula, Francis H. Fannon; Butler, Mr. Anthony Conlon; Fritzie, Carl Rothmund; Schnitzie, Norris P. Roland; sailors, Marcus Jaeger and Melvin Tesh; Captain Keeting, George Bagley. Solos by Misses Ruby Davis, Miss Eleanor Nugent and by Messrs. R. Whitestone and R. Verri.

The Ladies' ensemble includes Misses Marion Griffith, Margaret Armstrong, Hildagarde Jaeger, Helen Sweeley, Margaret Griffith, Dorothy Nugent, Francis McDermott, Violetta Jamieson, Rose Tull and Naomi Schwarzman.

Tickets may be procured at the Lyceum. Door open at 7:30, and the show starts at 8:15.

Police Court Notes

Two white men charged with being implicated in the theft of a battery from H. F. Campbell, where one of the men is said to have been employed, were sentenced to serve thirty days in jail each today by Justice W. S. Snow. Only one man was charged with the larceny of the battery. He admitted the theft, but implicated the second man, hence the sentencing of the two. The second man asked for a rehearing in order that he may get other witnesses and this probably will take place tomorrow.

The man charged with the larceny was arrested by Policeman Welker.

Two colored people, a man and woman, charged with disorderly conduct, arrested by Policeman Cline, were acquitted. A white man arrested by Policemen Durrer, Magner and Lawrence Padgett, charged with being drunk in the street, forfeited $5. A colored man arrested by Policemen Miller and Nalls, charged with being drunk and disorderly conduct, forfeited $5.

Plan Another Dance

Jewish Community Club Dance Big Success

The dance given by the Social Club J. C. C. at Elks' Hall on Tuesday evening December 6th, attracted the largest crowd of the season at this hall. Music was furnished by Thos' Jardin Orchestra, of Washington, while Raymond Bluemenfeld acted as floor manager. The feature of the affair was a lucky number dance in which the winning couple was presented with a five pound box of candy.

Miss Libby Berman, Miss Rose Mendleson and Messrs. Morris Levinson and Samuel Cohen, the committee in charge, wish to announce that a dance similar to this one will be held in January the exact date to be announced later. In the mean time they also wish to thank all who patronized this dance so generously.

DYED HER DRAPERIES AND A FADED SKIRT

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies, even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Chocolate For Gold

CORTEZ sought gold but found chocolate in Mexico. Mexican ladies today are so fond of chocolate that they sometimes have it served to them at church and in the theater. Next to coffee, for which WALLIS' has been famed for 26 years, chocolate and tea compete for your beverage favor. When shopping in Washington, choose your favorite hot cup to complete table delight at

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

An interesting program has been prepared for the Woman's Missionary meeting at the First Baptist Church tonight.

The Home Nursing Class will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Mrs. Edward R. Clark and little son, Edward Jr., have gone to Norfolk to visit relatives.

Mrs. S. A. Lovelock, of Lynchburg, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clark in King street.

The weekly sewing class will hold its regular session tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Board of Directors of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce will meet in their rooms Monday afternoon at three o'clock. It is hoped that all members will be present.

Regular monthly meeting of the Relief Truck and Engine Company No. 1, will be held tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the Friendship Veterans' Fire Association Hall, South Alfred street. All members are requested to be present. Election of officers for the coming year.

The pictures of the Y. M. C. A., for the biys and girls will be given today and tomorrow in the Chamber of Commerce at 3:30 o'clock, today for the boys and tomorrow for the girls. The pictures are "Economy in Clothes" and "Tacoma and Pugit Sound."

The Travelers' Protective Association will meet tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. It has been stated that at this meeting plans for a great membership drive will be formulated. The Association has in the past been doing great work and in the fuutre hopes to extend its good influence and work in many directions.

A business session of Washington Memorial Lodge of Prefection No. 7, will be held at the regular meeting place tonight.

The weekly prayer meeting of Anne Lee Memorial Home for the Aged was held this afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. E. W. Melichampe pastor of Pohick Church, lead at this meeting.

Alexandria Lodge, No. 758 Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, are planning another of its most enjoyable smokers to follow the regular meeting which is to be held on next Monday night. None of the members should miss this affair and it is hoped that as many as possible will be present.

Hon. C. C. Carlin has a most interesting relic of the World War in his possession. It is apparently two iron bracelets joined together and studded with knobs and a three inch sharp spike at one end. This was placed on the end of a long pole and the spike was driven into the brain of the wounded and disabled soldiers as they lay on the battlefield or the rings with the knobs were used to crush the skull. This relic was given by Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page to Mr. Carlin, who received it from King Victor Emanuel. It was picked up on the battlefield by the Italians after one of their fights with the Austrians and is an Austrian implement of war.

Representative Flood Called To Last Rest

It fell to the lot of Representative Flood, as chairman of that committee, to offer the resolution declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and Germany. Later in was his duty to offer a similar resolution relating to war with the imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government.

On another memorable occasion the Virginia member, on the platform of a political convention rather than the floor of the house, filled a spectacular oratorical role. That was when he arose, in the Democratic convention in Baltimore in 1912, and responded to the attack made by William Jennings Bryan on Thomas F. Ryan. Mr. Ryan was a friend and fellow-Virginian of Representative Flood, and the Bryan attack on Thomas Fortune Ryan, whom the Nebraskan linked with the "predatory interests," aroused in Mr. Flood a resentment that found expression in a dramatic and bitter speech.

His latest signal service was as ranking Democrat of one of the several committees named to "investigate" the conduct of the war. The minority report, presented by Mr. Flood after this "smelling committee" concluded its inquiry, was regarded as a remarkable brief and it is significant that the majority report of this subcommittee was never adopted by the Republican house, which instituted the investigation.

Members of congress generally were shocked today upon receiving word of Mr. Flood's death.

Old Folks' Concert

Many of the old favorite songs will be sung next Monday evening at the concert by the choir of St. Paul's Church. Such songs as the "Last Rose of Summer," "Oft in a Stilly Night," and others which have been selected will ever remain popular. "Ye Seconde Halfe," will be opened with the chorus, "Tis Thy Wedding Morn," with piano, organ and violin accompaniment. This selection is from "The Rose Maiden," by Cowen and is considered the best in this beautiful cantata. In the hands of the chorus of St. Paul's choir, it will doubtless be well presented, and they will maintain this reputation for effective chorus work.

Tickets can be secured at drug stores from members of the choir and at the door.

Basket Ball Notes

Tonight at the Armory the Crystal A. C. will oppose the Kanawah A. C., of Washington, at 8:15 p. m.

Saturday night the A. L. I., will oppose the Northwestern A. C., of Washington. This team is touted as a first class club and a good game is looked for. The preliminary game will be played between the Virginia Orioles and the Eagles, two first-class junior teams of this city. The first game will start at 7:00 p. m., and the second will start at 8:15.

On Monday next the A. L. I., will oppose the Quincy A. C. of Washington, the game starting at 8:30 p. m.

DOMESTIC ART

Y. M. C. A. Asks Course For Pubic Schools

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., held last Monday evening several matters pertaining to the educational work of the auxiliary were discussed and the following resolution passed:

"That the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., bring to the notice of the Alexandria city school board the importance and desirability of adding courses in domestic science and art to the regular school curriculum, and that the board be urged to take immediate steps toward the inauguration of such courses the next school year."

As a result of the auxiliary conducting cooking and sewing classes for some time, there is a growing consciousness of the need of the work and the inestimable value to be derived from it.

A report of the educational committee showed an enrollment of seventy-two women in the courses of physical education, cooking, dressmaking and home nursing. At least as many more girls are enrolled in sewing and gymnasium classes.

Beginning in January the auxiliary will offer a course for the study of Shakespeare, under the direction of David Jones. A new cooking class will open at the same time. Those interested in joining these classes should communicate with Mrs. H. B. Caton. Further information will be announced soon.

Beginning in February a course in civics and citizenship will be conducted by Miss Elizabeth Pidgeon of the University of Virginia. This course will be especially valuable to teachers desiring to renew their certificates or to secure credits toward a degree.

Information regarding this course may be obtained from Mrs. M. L. Horner of the educational committee.

The auxiliary decided to arrange for the supper to those attending the Inter-Association Sunday School Athletic Meet, on the evening of December 30. Plans are being made to have the supper prepared and served by the members of the cooking class who are now finishing their first course.

Enthusiastic Response of First Grade Mothers

In response to the invitation of Mrs. Woodward of the Washington School, and Misses Davis, King and Moncure, of the Lee School, about 30 mothers of the morning pupils visited their children at work in the respective school rooms on Wednesday and Thursday. The presence of the mothers made the little ones most happy and the teachers were no less pleased at the opportunity to become personally acquainted with the mothers and to get from them helpful suggestions concerning the needs of their particular children.

Important steps in the improvement of first grade work were discussed. Of these, more classrooms, more teachers, and supplementary reading material were recognized as the most urgent needs.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. PATRICK J. HALEY,
Syracuse, N. Y.

"I'm feeling like a new man since Tanlac soothed and toned up my stomach and for the first time in forty years can eat a hearty meal and suffer no distress afterwards," was the remarkable statement of Patrick J. Haley, 107 Prospect Ave., Syracuse, N. Y., a well-known iron and steel worker:

"Only those who have had stomach trouble in a bad form can know what I suffered during all those years. I was almost a nervous wreck, too, and for years I didn't know what it was to get a good sound sleep at night.

"I got new life and energy from each dose of Tanlac and now I'm a well and happy man instead of a sick and miserable one as I was for so many years. I'll vouch for the merit of Tanlac at any time."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfiled, Jr., and by leading druggists everywhere.

INGOMAR THEATRE

Eileen Percy in the role of a pretty little waif in New York will be the attraction at the Ingomar Theatre today when she will appear in "Little Miss Hawkshaw." This Fox picture first brings Miss Percy to the screen as the mistreated foster-child of an old sailor, but later she comes into her heritage and gets a husband, a castle, and vast estates across the sea to make up for her earlier hardships. The picture is said to be both amusing and spirited.

RICHMOND THEATRE

"The Wonderful Thing" starring Norma Talmadge, the Associated First National Pictures attraction which is the current feature at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow, is one of the cleverest combinations of humor, comedy, pathos and tragedy that has found its way to the screen in a long time. It was taken from the stage play of the same name, written by Lillian Trimble Bradley and Forrest Halsey, which had a wonderful success on Broadway and on tour.

NOTICE TO COMMUTERS

On and after the 12th of December, 1921, the fare for passage between Washington and Alexandria will be raised to 15 cents each way. The eight trip tickets for $1.00 will be put on again, and about January 1st we will put on a Commuters Ticket of 52 Trips at $5.20 good to be used for one person for the month only. On September 10th we reduced the fare to 10 cents each way to try the experiment to see if it could be done, but we find that this amount will not pay the actual expenses of running these buses, as Gasoline alone has advanced 5 cents a gallon since the fare was reduced, and other expenses have gone higher proportionately, so we are just forced to make this raise, and feel that the Alexandria Public will appreciate our efforts to protect their interests,

INGROWN TOE NAIL
TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

HUNDRED AUDITORS NEEDED FOR INCOME TAX

Washington, Dec. 8.—The United States Civil Service Commission stated today that the Income Tax Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will appoint several hundred additional auditors and revenue agents or inspectors as soon as the Commission can supply the eligibles, for auditing work in the central office at Washington and inspection work throughout the country. It is stated that the Bureau of International Revenue finds it necessary to greatly augment its present force in order to bring its inspection and auditing work up to date and keep it current. The Bureau recognizes the importance to business interests of clearing away work in arrears.

The Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held throughout the United States on December 14 to fill these positions. The entrance salaries offered range from $1800 to $3000 a year. Advancement will depend upon the record of the employee.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from the Civil Service Board at the post office or custom house in any city.

Fighting Tuberculosis

Richmond, Va., Dec. 8.—Inaugurating a new development in the fight against tuberculosis, the State Board of Health has just held clinics in Prince George County where, in cooperation with the Hopewell Chapter of the American Red Cross 80 underweight children were examined. The children selected for the initial experiment ranged in underweight from 15 per cent to 20 per cent.

Ever since the examinations of children, under the provisions of the West Law, had disclosed such a large percentage of children apparently suffering from malnutrition, the State Board of Health has been considering methods for utilizing that knowledge for the benefit of the rising generation; and the studies that were conducted by the tuberculosis committee of the General Assembly gave impetus to the purpose.

The Prince George clinics were conducted by specialists, both in tuberculosis, and children's diseases. Conferences with parents followed the examinations and correctional methods were outlined.

"We are starting at the source," said an officer of the State Board of Health who had taken part in the clinics; "We are trying to begin where infection begins. It is a well established fact that tuberculosis infection occurs in childhood and that possibly 75 per cent of school children would react to tuberculin tests, in other words would prove to have some degree of infection. That does not mean that any such proportion or any appreciable proportion of young children have active tuberculosis; indeed, active tuberculosis among the very young is comparatively rare; but they have the germ which later may, through overwork, bad feeling, or some depleting disease, be made active and cause tuberculosis in the adult.

The study of the tuberculosis committee was undertaken in conformity with its plan to examine all angles of the tuberculosis problem with a view of presenting a definite and comprehensive plan of attacking the plague when the General Assembly meets next January. It is likely that this new experiment will be incorporated.

Ce-re-a-lia
SEE-REE-ALE-YA
Sweets

Who Says Dairying Doesn't Pay?

You can produce milk at a good profit. Ask any dairyman who feeds Ce-re-a-lia Sweets. They make money. They have more or better milk to sell. Their feeding costs are far less than yours compared to the size of the milk checks. Their cows keep in better physical state than yours.

If you're buying feed because it's "cheap", you're cheating yourself—wasting milk as truly as if you poured it away. Ce-re-a-lia Sweets, rich in milk-making ingredients, isn't cheap to buy, but is most economical to use. It's all nutritious cereal stuffs with just enough molasses added to give it special relish. Cows do not tire of it. Ce-re-a-lia is flaky, clean and easy to handle—never cakes or lumps.

If you are using your home-grown ground corn this season, feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets with it. It will double the flow of milk and keep the cows in good condition. Before you get in your next "big supply" of feed,

Try Ce-re-a-lia Sweets Four Weeks At Our Risk.

Feed Ce-re-a-lia Sweets to any cow for 4 weeks. She must give more or better milk, and she must show a bigger profit than she is giving you now, or you get every cent back. You'll need about three sacks to make the trial. Call on us for chart and details.

Resolution Passed by American Legion

The Virginia Tuberculosis Association has received the following resolutions passed by the American Legion at the Third National Convention Kansas City, October 31st to November 2nd, 1921.

WHEREAS, The prevalence of tuberculosis among ex-service men has created a problem of most serious proportions, both to the Government and to the American Legion; and

"WHEREAS, The National Tuberculosis Association has been generous in its continuous cooperation with the American Legion and the Federal agencies that have been trying to solve this problem and to provide proper care for tuberculosis ex service men; and

WHEREAS, The state and local tuberculosis associations have constantlyly supported the efforts of the American Legion in securing adequate care for ex-service men and are still continuing with their educational and organization campaigns to reduce the incidence of tuberculosis among ex-soldiers.

That the American Legion pledges its unqualified support to the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated state and local associations in the fight against tuberculosis which they are carrying on, and that we urge all local posts of the American Legion to cooperate with local and state tuberculosis associations in their several campaigns for the prevention of tuberculosis and especially in the fourteenth annual Christmas Seal Sale."

The Virginia Tuberculosis Association reports the organization of 99 of the 100 Counties in the State for the sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals, and hopes this last county will soon join the ranks of those engaged in the fight against the white plague.

HOWARD COUNTY SHERIFF SELECTS WIFE AS DEPUTY

Ellicott City, Md. Dec. 6.—When Arthur A. Brosenne, New Sheriff for Howard County, was formerly conducted into office today his first official act was to name his wife as deputy for the district, which includes Ellicott City.

Mrs. Brosenne is the first woman to hold a public office in Howard County, with the exception of School Board appointments. She will draw a salary of $100 a year.

Opinion as to the advisability of having a woman deputy is greatly devided here tonight, and the question has been raised as to wether the new deputy would "have the nerve" to use a gun on a fleeing prisoner.
